The strength of to-day's general stock market can be much better attributed to further consideration of the benefit resulting from the Secretary of the Treasury's arrangement for the relief of the money market than to the announcement of the transaction involving the transfer of a block of the stock of the Metropolitan securities Company. At the same time, Wall Street put a very favorable construction upon the latter transaction, and there was a notable upward movement in the stock of the Metropolitan Street Railway Company, which at one time sold at 515 points above Saturday's closing figures A sympathetic bullish movement was conducted in the other local traction shares, Brooklyn Rapid Transit advancing 1% points and Manhattan Elevated 11/4 points hough none of these shares held the full extent of its gain. Before the local opening London cabled a list of improvements for the American shares dealt in abroad and followed this up with buying orders for execution here. The London buying was estimated at about 25,000 shares, scattered through the list, but the largest amounts were of Erie and Union Pacific. There was practically no selling for foreign account. The improvement in the foreign attitude was directly attributable to a more favorable opinion regarding the American financial situation, in view of the Secretary of the Treasury's plans for averting monetary stringency. The strength of the London market assisted in a higher opening ocally. There were further advances made throughout the list as the morning progressed. St. Paul was especially strong, while other railway stocks that showed particular firmness were New York Central, Union Pacific, Rock Island, Atchison, Missouri Pacific and Erie. Central Railroad of New Jersey, which advanced 2% points, was specifically affected by the excellent showing of its July earnings statement, issued to-day, which exhibited an increase in net of $540,021, and in surplus of $418,985. Among the industrial shares American Sugar Refining advanced 1% points under more animated trading than any decided sign of reaction was displayed by the market. Amalgamated Copper, which had advanced early in the day with the rest of the list, despite Western advices showing that the litigation in which the company is involved in the Montana courts is going on as vigorously as ever, broke very sharply in price. On the decline stop loss orders, apparently, were reached. The decline extended to 2% points from the high price of the morning. There was a subsequent recovery of 11/2 points and another recession, with the stock ending its erratic course for the day at a fractional net decline. Under rather general profit taking sales the market receded from its best figure, though the closing prices were in nearly all cases at net advances and the final tone could still be called firm. In the bond department there was not much activity, but strength was exhibited. In the face of the London buying of American shares the sterling exchange market showed decided strength on a demand said to reflect some maturities coming upon a market in which, owing to the lateness of the crops and the lightness so far of agricultural exports, the supply of bills is small. Call money exhibited a slightly firmer tone, doubtless reflecting the shifting of loans incidental to preparations for the large Sept. 1 disbursements. The local banks lost to the United States Sub-Treasury on Saturday $19,000, and since Friday have lost $208,000. compared with a gain up to the close of business on Saturday a week ago of $973,-000. In the commercial markets wheat prices weakened, despite a reported increased business for export. A more liberal movement of spring wheat to market and clearing weather conditions in the Northwest exerted most influence. There was an attempt to get up a frost scare in corn, the price of which held relatively firm. It was reported unofficially that here had been light frost experienced at one point in Iowa. Warmer weather for the corn belt was, however, predicted. In the cotton market the shorts had another In the cotton market the shorts had another bad day of it, cool weather in the South being the chief moving influence. The failure of a firm supposed to be on the short side of the market was announced on the Cotton Exchange.

It was not until the early afternoon that Conditions in outside securities to-day were similar to those which prevailed last week. While prices ruled generally firm, the market was listless, with what little activity was shown confised to Bay State Gas and United Gas and Electric. Elsewhere in the list trading was only on a moderate scale. Some of the movements in the speculation were encouraging, but others were far from reassuring, with the result that after early fractional advances the market became somewhat irregular and receded from the best prices of the day. Northern Securities, on moderate purchases gained ½ per cent, but lost a fraction in the final dealings. American Can preferred rose nearly 1 per cent, but likewise receded slightly. Interporough Rapid Transit sold up nearly 1 per cent, on a small transaction.

borough Rapid Transist sold up nearly 1 per cent. on a small transaction.
United Gas and Electric, when issued, was decidedly active, but somewhat easier. Bay State Gas was steady. Seaboard Air Line shares opened strong, at an advance of 65 per cent. in both issues, but in the final dealings receded fractionally. The Copper stocks were dull and practically unchanged with the exception of White Knob, which sold off about 1 per cent.

The firm of Johason & Co. was supposed to be short anywhere from 20,000 to 50,000 bales of September and Cotober. A commission house said: "It appears to us that the market is demonstrating other facts besides crop prospects for the coming year, and while operators are widely divided as to causes, the price of cotton is daily making new records for the future options, being forced up by the approach of another season with an increasing famine in supplies. It appears to us that this process will continue until the weight of actual supplies is greater than the present demand and equal to anticipations of spinners' wants well into the coming year. The wedge of high prices for the staple is moving slowly but surely under the market, and if trade demand is holding back, it is only creating a vacuum which sooner or later must be filled. We have not decided against the growing crop for a satisfactory yield, but we have decided that the largest crop of American cotton ever grown is necessary to avert a more serious crisis in the cotton world than has yet been witnessed."
